No, I'm not/we aren't, etc.

Is he/she, etc. working? < Yes, he/she, etc. is.
No, he/she, etc. isn't.

Use

We use the present simple for:

- permanent states, repeated actions and daily routines.
Carlos lives in Lisbon. (permanent state)
He goes to work by bus. (repeated action)
She gets up at six o'clock every morning. (daily routine)
- scheduled actions, i.e. timetables of trains, buses, etc. or programmes.
The train to Istanbul leaves at 9.00 pm.
- likes and dislikes.
He likes horses.
- general truths or laws of nature.
The sun rises in the east.

Time Expressions we use with the present simple:

always, usually, often, etc., every day/week/month/year, etc., on Mondays/Tuesdays, etc., in the morning/afternoon/evening, at night/the weekend, etc.

Use

We use the present continuous for:

- actions happening now, at the moment of speaking.
The children are sleeping right now.
- temporary actions, i.e. actions happening around the time of speaking.
The Greens are looking for a babysitter at the moment.
- actions that we have already arranged to do in the near future, especially when the time and place have been decided.
They're flying to Canada at seven o'clock this evening.

Time Expressions we use with the present continuous:

now, at the moment, these days, at present, nowadays, still, etc.

State Verbs

- State verbs are verbs which do not normally have continuous tenses because they describe a state rather than an action. These include:
- verbs expressing likes and dislikes: like, love, hate, dislike, can't stand, don't mind, prefer, enjoy, etc.
Thomas likes jazz music.

Note: Verbs expressing likes/dislikes take a noun or an -ing form after them.

She can't stand cats.

He loves playing basketball.

- verbs of perception: believe, know, notice, remember, forget, understand, think, etc.
I don't understand the meaning of that word.
- verbs of the senses: see, hear, feel, taste, look, smell, sound. We often use can or could with these verbs when we refer to what we see, hear, etc., at the moment of speaking.
The cake tastes delicious.
I can hear children's voices coming from the playground.
- some other verbs: fit, contain, need, belong, cost, owe, mean, own, appear, want, have (= possess), etc.
This dress is very expensive. It costs £250.

Some state verbs have continuous tenses, but there is a difference in meaning.

- 1) I think she needs help. (= I believe ...)
I'm thinking about buying a new car. (= I'm considering ...)
- 2) This pasta tastes delicious! (= This pasta has a delicious flavour.)
He's tasting the pasta. (= He's testing the flavour of ...)
- 3) I can see a light in the distance. (= I can actually see ...)
I'm seeing Tom this evening. (= I'm meeting ...)
- 4) George looks very tired. (= George appears to be ...)
John is looking at an old map. (= John is studying ...)
- 5) The kitchen always smells of freshly baked bread. (= The kitchen always has the smell of ...)
Why is the lady smelling the perfume? (= Why is the lady sniffing ...)
- 6) This material feels soft. (= This material has a soft texture ...)
A: Why are you feeling Sam's forehead? (= Why are you touching ...)
B: Because I think he's got a temperature.
- 7) She has a beautiful old house. (= She owns/possesses ...)
We are having dinner. (= We are eating ...)

Linking Words/Phrases

- To join similar ideas or add more points we can use and (also), also or and ... as well.
He's got brown hair and brown eyes. He's also got full lips.
She is polite and (also) generous.
She is polite and generous as well.
- To join contrasting ideas or facts we can use but, however or on the other hand.
Susan is very generous. She can be a bit bossy.
Susan is very generous but she can be a bit bossy.
Susan is very generous. However/On the other hand, she can be a bit bossy.

Word Formation

We can form adjectives from nouns by adding the following suffixes.

- ous e.g. fame - famous
- ive e.g. aggression - aggressive
- ful e.g. beauty - beautiful
- y e.g. boss - bossy
- ly e.g. friend - friendly

- 15 Fill in the gaps with the correct words derived from the words in bold.

with his 6) flatmate. The MESS script is very 7) and FUN the film has become very popular. It is a
8) film not to be missed. WONDER

Relative Pronouns

- Relative pronouns, (who(m), which, that, whose), introduce relative clauses. A relative clause gives us information about which particular person or thing the speaker is referring to.

The girl who works in the bakery is my cousin.

relative clause

(The relative clause tells us which girl we are talking about.)

- We use who/that to refer to people.

The lady who lives next door has lots of pets.

- We use which/that to refer to things/objects or animals.

I saw a film which was extremely interesting.

- Who/Which/That cannot be omitted when it is the subject of the relative clause.

She is the girl who lives in the High Street, I am reading a book which is very boring.

↓
subject

subject

- Who/Which/That can be omitted when it is the object of the relative clause, i.e. when there is a noun or personal pronoun between the relative pronoun and the verb.

I spoke to a woman (who(m)/that) I had met before, This is the car (which/that) he bought last week.

object

object

- We use whose instead of possessive adjectives (my, your, his, etc.) with people, objects and animals to show possession.

This is Mrs Thomas, whose daughter is a doctor.

- A relative pronoun is not used with another pronoun (I, you, me, him, etc.).

I know the man ~~who~~ won first prize in the competition.

Note: • who's: who is or who has

Who's she? (= who is)*

That's the lady who's got an Alsatian dog. (= who has)

- whose: possessive

He's the man whose dog bit me.

Relative Adverbs

Where, when, and why are relative adverbs and can introduce relative clauses.

- Where is used to refer to place usually after nouns like house, hotel, street, town, country, etc. It can be replaced by which/that + preposition. In this case, which/that can be omitted.

The hotel where we stayed was fantastic.

The hotel (which/that) we stayed at was fantastic.

- When is used to refer to time, usually after nouns like time, period, moment, day, summer, etc. It can either be omitted or replaced by that.

I remember the day (when) my son was born.

I remember the day that my son was born.

- Why is used to give reason, usually after the word reason. It can either be omitted or replaced by that.

The reason (why) I can't come to your party is that I'm extremely tired.

The reason that I can't come to your party is that I'm extremely tired.

Position of Prepositions in Relative Clauses

Prepositions can come either before relative pronouns or at the end of the relative clause. However, we usually avoid using them before relative pronouns.

The company for which she works sells computers. (formal use)

The company which she works for sells computers. (informal - usual structure)

The company she works for sells computers. (everyday English)

Note: Who and that are not used after prepositions.

This is the girl with whom I played tennis. (formal)

This is the girl (who) I played tennis with. (informal)

Adverbs of Frequency

- Adverbs of frequency (always, usually, often, sometimes, rarely, seldom, hardly ever, never, etc.) tell us how often something happens. Adverbs of frequency answer the question How often ...? "How often do you watch quiz shows?" "I sometimes watch quiz shows in the evening."
- Adverbs of frequency usually come before the main verb but after the verb to be and auxiliary or modal verbs such as do, can, must, etc.
- The adverbs rarely, seldom, and never have a negative meaning and are never used with the word not. Sam never goes cycling during the week. Not: Sam ~~never doesn't go~~ cycling during the week.
- Adverbs of frequency always go before the auxiliary verb in short answers.
A: Do you listen to the radio?
B: Yes, I sometimes do.

Past Simple: regular verbs

Affirmative	Negative
I walked	I didn't walk
You walked	You didn't walk, etc.
He walked
She walked
It walked
We walked
You walked
They walked
	Interrogative
	Did I walk?
	Did you walk?, etc.

Short answers

Did I/you/we, etc. walk ...? $\left\langle \begin{array}{l} \text{Yes, I/you/we, etc. did.} \\ \text{No, I/you/we, etc. didn't.} \end{array} \right.$

Form

- We form the affirmative of most regular verbs by adding -ed to the verb.
I return - I returned
- Some verbs have irregular affirmative forms.
I go - I went
(See list of irregular verbs at the back of the book.)

Spelling

Study these examples:

I dance - I danced I drop - I dropped
I try - I tried I cancel - I cancelled
I play - I played

Use

We use the past simple for:

- actions which happened or finished at a definite or stated time in the past.
We left the house at 7.30 pm.
- actions which happened repeatedly in the past but do not happen any more. In this case, we can use adverbs of frequency (always, often, usually, etc.).
He often watched football matches with his brother when he was a teenager (but he doesn't any more).
- actions which happened immediately one after the other in the past.
First, he opened the window. Then, he looked down the street and saw a strange black car.

Time Expressions we use with the past simple:

yesterday, last night/week/year/Monday, etc., a month/two years/three years, etc., ago, in 1960, etc.
Princess Diana died in 1997.

Past Continuous

Affirmative	Negative
I was walking	I wasn't walking
You were walking	You weren't walking
He was walking	He wasn't walking, etc.
She was walking
It was walking
We were walking
You were walking

Were we/you/they walking ...? $\left\langle \begin{array}{l} \text{Yes, we/you/they were.} \\ \text{No, we/you/they weren't.} \end{array} \right.$

Use

We use the past continuous:

- for an action which was in progress at a stated time in the past. We do not know when the action started or finished.
At 9 o'clock last night we were watching TV.
- for a past action which was in progress when another action interrupted it. We use the past continuous for the action in progress (longer action) and the past simple for the action which interrupted it (shorter action).
She was cooking dinner when the doorbell rang.
- for two or more actions which were happening at the same time in the past (simultaneous actions).
David was reading the newspaper while Carla was watching TV.
- to give background information in a story and to set the scene.
The snow was falling heavily as Mary was walking in the park.

Time Expressions we use with the past continuous:

when, while, as, all day/night/morning, etc.,
 Note: when/while/as + past continuous (longer action) when + past simple (shorter action)

Present Perfect Simple

Affirmative	Negative
I have walked	I haven't walked
You have walked	You haven't walked
He has walked	He hasn't walked, etc.
She has walked

Has he/she/it walked ...?	Yes, he/she/it has. No, he/she/it hasn't.

Form

- We form the present perfect simple with have/has and the past participle of the main verb.
John has broken the vase in the living room.
- We form the past participle of regular verbs by adding -ed to the verb.
*clean - cleaned
- We form the past participle of irregular verbs differently. buy - bought, write - written (See list of irregular verbs at the back of the book.)

Use

We use the present perfect simple for:

- a recent action which happened at an unstated time in the past.
Debbie has just moved into a new house.
- an action which started in the past and is still continuing in the present.
They have been teachers since 1987.
- an action which has recently finished and whose results are visible in the present.

We've been walking
You've been walking
They've been walking
	Interrogative
	Have I been walking?
	Have you been walking?
	Has he been walking? etc.

Use

We use the present perfect continuous

- to put emphasis on the duration of an action which started in the past and continues in the present.

They have been working in the garden for two hours.

- for an action which started in the past and lasted for some time. The action may have finished or may still be going on. The result of the action is visible in the present.

Mary has a stomach ache. She has been eating chocolate all morning.

Used to/Be used to/Get used to

- We use used to + infinitive to refer to past habits or things that do not happen any more. In such cases "used to" can be replaced by the past simple with no difference in meaning.

She used to walk/walked to work when she was younger. (She doesn't any more.)

Did he use to tell you stories?/Did he tell you stories?*

However, for actions which happened at a definite time in the past we use the past simple and not "used to".
They went to Jamaica last summer. (NOT: They ~~used to go~~ to Jamaica last summer.)

- We use be/get used to + noun/pronoun/-ing form to refer to habitual actions or actions/things somebody has become accustomed to.

Study the examples below to see how we can use be/get used to:

They are used to cold weather. (They are accustomed to cold weather. – present)

I'm used to going to bed late. (I'm accustomed to going to bed late. – present)

He wasn't used to working night shifts. (He wasn't accustomed to working night shifts. – past)

Laura is getting used to wearing a uniform. (Laura is becoming accustomed to wearing a uniform. – present)

Carol had never cooked for herself before, but she got used to it. (She became accustomed to it. – past)

They will soon get used to taking care of their possessions. (They will become accustomed to taking care of their possessions. – future)

Time Clauses

- Time clauses are introduced with the following time conjunctions: when, as, while, before, since, after, until/till, by the time, as soon as, etc.

before = before a past time

Ann got engaged last month. Her sister had got engaged three months before.

ago = before now

Jason got his degree a year ago.

by the time + clause = before, not later than the moment something happens

By the time we got home, he had finished cleaning the kitchen.*

until/till + clause/time adverb = up to the time when

She waited until the boys had left for school.

by = not later than

while/as + clause = in the time period

The light went out while/as I was having a shower.

as soon as = the moment (that)

We called our mother as soon as we arrived at our hotel.

when (time conjunction) + present tense

when (question word) + will

I'll water the plants when I get home. (time conjunction)

When will you be in town again? (question word)*

- Time clauses are subordinate clauses and usually go with a main clause. When the time clause precedes the main clause, a comma is used to separate the two clauses.

After I had done the washing-up, I wrote a letter to Mum.

- We never use future tenses after time conjunctions. We use the present simple or the present perfect instead.

I will relax after I finish/have finished cooking.

Sequence of Tenses

- Time clauses follow the rule of the sequence of tenses. That is, when the verb of the main clause is in a present or future form, the verb of the time clause is in a present form. When the verb of the main clause is in a past form, the verb of the time clause is in a past form, too.

Main Clause		Time Clause
present/future/imperative	→	present simple or present perfect
		He brushes his teeth before he goes to bed. past simple/past perfect	→	past simple or past perfect
		Tess had fed the dog before I got home.

	Interrogative
	Am I going to work? Are you going to work? Is she going to work? etc.

Use

We use be going to for:

- plans and intentions we have for the near future.
I'm going to spend next summer sailing around the world.
- predictions based on what we can see (evidence) or know.
The sky is very cloudy. It's going to rain tonight.

Time Expressions we use with the future simple and be going to:

tomorrow, the day after tomorrow, next week/ month/ year, tonight, soon, in a week/ month/ year, etc.

Present Continuous

- The present continuous is used for fixed arrangements in the near future.
I am seeing my doctor next week.

Time Conjunctions

We do not use future tenses in clauses after while, before, until, as soon as, after, if, by the time, as, etc.

As soon as we finish dinner, I'll serve some ice cream.*

(NOT: As soon as we ~~will finish~~...)

Note: when (= At what time?) used as a question word can be followed by the future simple.

When will they be back? (when = question word)*

but: Susan will call us when she arrives. (when = time conjunction)*

Type 1 Conditionals

If-Clause (hypothesis)	Main Clause (result)
If + present simple	→ will/may/can + infinitive without to

- Type 1 conditionals express a real or very probable situation in the present or future.
If we leave early, we'll catch the 8 o'clock train.
You may borrow my motorcycle if you promise to be careful.*
- We can use unless instead of if ... not in the if-clause of Type 1 conditionals. The verb is always in the affirmative after unless.
Unless we leave early, we'll miss the 8 o'clock train.
(= If we don't leave early, we'll miss the 8 o'clock train.)*

Reported Speech

- Direct speech is the exact words somebody said. We use quotation marks (" ") in direct speech.
"I graduated last year," Pamela said.
- Reported speech is the exact meaning of what someone said, but not the exact words. We do not use quotation marks in reported speech. We can either use the word that after the introductory verb or we can omit it.

Pamela said (that) she had graduated the year before.

Say / Tell

- We can use say and tell in both direct and reported speech.
- Tell is always used with a personal pronoun, but say may be used with or without a personal pronoun.
- Say is always followed by the preposition to when it is used with an object pronoun. In reported speech, say is not followed by an object pronoun, but it can be followed by that.
- We don't use to with tell.

Direct Speech	Reported Speech
He said, "Jane is late again."	He said (that) Jane was late again.
He said to me, "Jane is late again."	He said (that)/told me (that) Jane was late again.
He told me, "Jane is late again."	He told me (that) Jane was late again.

- Say and Tell are also used with the following expressions:

say	good morning/afternoon/evening, etc., something/nothing, etc., one's prayers, a few words, no more, so, etc.
tell	the truth, a lie, a secret, a story, the time, the difference, somebody one's name, somebody the way, one's fortune, one from another, etc.

Reported Statements

- Reported statements are usually introduced with say (that) or tell (that).
"He has worked for the Daily Mirror," she said. → She said (that) he had worked for the Daily Mirror.
- Personal pronouns, possessive adjectives/possessive pronouns change according to the meaning of the sentence.
"I saw a young woman running along the street," she said. → She said that she had seen a young woman running along the street.

- When the introductory verb is in a past tense, the verb tenses change as follows:

Direct Speech		Reported Speech
Present Simple "I am thirsty," the boy said.	⇒	Past Simple The boy said (that) he was thirsty.
Present Continuous "He's sleeping," she said to me.	⇒	Past Continuous She told me (that) he was sleeping.
Present Perfect "I have washed the car," he said.	⇒	Past Perfect He said (that) he had washed the car.
Past Simple "I played football," John said.	⇒	Past Simple/Past Perfect John said that he played/had played football.
Past Continuous "We were dancing all night long," she said.	⇒	Past Continuous/Past Perfect Continuous She said (that) they were dancing/had been dancing all night long.
Future Simple "I'll try again tomorrow," he said.	⇒	Conditional (would) He said (that) he would try again the next day.

- The past perfect and past perfect continuous do not change in reported speech.
"John had fixed the car by the time we had dinner," she said. ⇒ She said (that) John had fixed the car by the time they had dinner.
- Certain words and time expressions change as follows:

Direct Speech	Reported Speech
• tonight, today, this week/month/year	⇒ that night, that day, that week/month/year
• now	⇒ then, at that time/moment, immediately
• yesterday, last night/week/month/year	⇒ the day before/the previous day, the previous night/week/month/year
• tomorrow, next week/month/year	⇒ the following day/the day after, the following/next week/month/year
• two days/months/years, etc. ago	⇒ two days/months/years, etc. before
• here	⇒ there
• come	⇒ go

Tenses do not change in reported speech when:

- the introductory verb (say, tell, etc.) is in the present simple, future simple or present perfect.
"I made a cake," Grandma says. ⇒ Grandma says that she made a cake.
- the speaker reports something a short time after it was said (up-to-date reporting).
"The car has broken down again," my sister said. ⇒ My sister said that the car has broken down again.

Tenses can either change or remain the same in reported speech when the speaker reports a general truth, a law of nature or a permanent state.

"The printing press was invented by Johann Gutenberg," the teacher said. ⇒ The teacher said that the printing press was/had been invented by Johann Gutenberg.

Reported Questions

- We introduce reported questions with ask, inquire, wonder or want to know.
- When the direct question begins with a question word (who, where, how old/long, when, why, what, etc.) the reported question begins with the same question word.
"Where do you live?" he asked me. → He asked me where I lived.
- When the direct question is a yes/no question and begins with an auxiliary (be, do, have) or a modal verb (can, may, etc.) then the reported question begins with if or whether.
"Did Tom go to bed late last night?" she asked me. → She asked me if/whether Tom went/had gone to bed late the previous night.
- In reported questions, the verb is in the affirmative. The question mark and words/expressions such as please, well, oh, etc., are omitted. Verb tenses, pronouns and possessive adjectives change as in statements.
"Can you open the window, please?" she asked. → She asked me if/whether I could open the window.

Introductory Verbs

To report the meaning of a speaker's words we can use various introductory verbs.

Study the examples below:

Introductory Verb	Direct Speech	Reported Speech
• promise + to -infinitive or promise + that clause	"I'll give you a lift." "I'll do my homework."	He promised to give me a lift. He promised that he would do his homework.
• refuse + to -infinitive	"No, I won't call Tom."	He refused to call Tom.
• advise/ask + somebody + to -infinitive	"You should take an aspirin." "Could you do something for me?"	He advised me to take an aspirin. He asked me to do something for him.
• apologise for + gerund	"I'm sorry I was late."	He apologised for being/having been late.
• suggest + gerund	"Let's have a picnic."	He suggested having a picnic.

Indirect Questions

We use indirect questions when we ask for information politely. Indirect questions are introduced with Do you know...?, Can/Could you tell me...?, Have you any idea...?, Would you mind...? and I'd like to know...

The word order of indirect questions is the same as in statements (subject + verb). When the indirect question starts with I'd like to know, the question mark is omitted.

Direct question: Where is the train station?

Indirect question: Do you know where the train station is?

Direct question: When is the next flight to Tokyo?

Indirect question: I'd like to know when the next flight to Tokyo is.

The Passive

Form

- We form the passive with the verb to be and the past participle of the main verb.

to be + past participle (pp)

- Study the following examples to see how the passive is formed in different tenses.

Tense/Verb Form	Active	Passive
Present Simple	They develop films here.	Films are developed here.
Present Continuous	They are developing a film now.	A film is being developed now.
Past Simple	They developed this film yesterday.	This film was developed yesterday.
Past Continuous	They were developing a film when I arrived.	A film was being developed when I arrived.
Present Perfect	They have already developed ten films.	Ten films have already been developed .
Past Perfect	They had developed fifty films by two o'clock.	Fifty films had been developed by two o'clock.
Future Simple	They will develop the film tomorrow.	The film will be developed tomorrow.
Conditionals	They would develop the film if they had time.	The film would be developed if they had time.
Modals	They must develop the film by noon.	The film must be developed by noon.

Note: The present perfect continuous, the future continuous and the past perfect continuous are not normally used in the passive.

In colloquial English, get is often used instead of be to express something happening by accident.
Alex got hit by a bus while he was cycling down the street. (= Alex was hit ...)

Use

We use the passive:

- when the person who carries out the action (the agent) is unknown, unimportant or obvious from the context.
My car was stolen last night. (unknown agent)
The plants are watered every evening. (unimportant agent)
The house was burgled. (by a burglar – obvious agent)
- when the action itself is more important than the agent, especially in news headlines, newspaper articles, formal notices, instructions, advertisements, etc.
The new wing of the hospital was opened by the President yesterday morning.
- when we want to emphasise the agent.
The town library was built by my great-great-grandfather in 1874.
- when we want to make statements more polite or formal.
My new CD player is broken. (more polite than You've broken my new CD player.)

Changing from Active to Passive

When changing a sentence from the active into the passive:

- the object of the active sentence becomes the subject in the passive sentence.
- the active verb changes into a passive form.
- the subject of the active sentence becomes the agent and is either introduced with the preposition by or omitted.
- Only transitive verbs (i.e. verbs which take an object) can be changed into the passive.

active: Steve wrote a letter. (transitive verb) passive: A letter was written by Steve.

But: She came home late last night. (The verb "come" is intransitive so the sentence cannot be changed into the passive.)

ACTIVE	subject	verb	object
	Lisa	fed	the cat.
PASSIVE	subject	verb	agent
	The cat	was fed	by Lisa.

- By + agent is used to say who or what did the action.
*The old lady was rescued by a firefighter.
- By + agent is omitted in the passive sentence when the agent is unknown, unimportant or obvious from the context. It is also omitted when the subject of the active sentence is a word such as someone, people, I, you, etc.
*Someone has broken the lock. ⇒ The lock has been broken.
- With + instrument/material/ingredient is used to say what the agent used, or after past participles such as coloured, crowded, filled, packed, etc.

*The omelette was made with eggs, milk and cheese.

*The wood was cut with an axe.

- Verbs which take two objects (give, offer, tell, take, etc.) can have two passive forms.
Mary told Kevin a secret. ⇒ a) Kevin was told a secret by Mary. b) A secret was told to Kevin by Mary.
- In the passive, the preposition that follows a verb (accuse of, speak to, break into, etc.) is placed immediately after the verb.
Dave turned the radio off. ⇒ The radio was turned off by Dave.
- Let changes to be allowed to in the passive.
Mum let us watch TV. ⇒ We were allowed to watch TV.

Questions in the Passive

- For questions in the passive, we follow the same rules as for statements. The verb, however, is in the interrogative form.
Has Anne walked the dog? ⇒ Has the dog been walked (by Anne)?
- When the question begins with who/what, we cannot omit "by".
*Who painted the fence? ⇒ Who was the fence painted by?

As - Like

We use as + noun:

- to say what somebody or something really is.
He works as a mechanic at Ben's Garage.

We use like:

- with feel, look, smell, taste + noun
It feels like silk.
- with nouns/pronouns/-ing form to express similarity or contrast.
*She eats like a bird.
*No one can cook like her.
This bread is tasteless. It's like eating cardboard.

Question Tags

- Question Tags are short questions at the end of affirmative or negative statements. We use them to ask for confirmation or agreement.
- Question tags are formed with an auxiliary or modal verb and an appropriate personal pronoun. If there is an auxiliary verb in the statement, the same auxiliary is used to form the question tag. Otherwise, we use do/does (present simple) or did (past simple).

You can see the stage, can't you?

She drives a BMW, doesn't she?

He went to Brazil, didn't he?

- After affirmative statements we use a negative question tag.

She is a teacher, isn't she?

- After negative statements we use a positive question tag.

You haven't fed the dog yet, have you?

- When the sentence contains words such as: never, hardly, rarely, etc. the question tag is positive.

They rarely watch TV, do they?

- The question tags of some verbs and expressions are formed differently.

Study the examples below:

I am ⇒ aren't I? I am clever, aren't I?

Imperative ⇒ will/won't you?

Be quiet, will/won't you?

Don't ⇒ will you? Don't yell at me, will you?

Let's ⇒ shall we? Let's order a pizza, shall we?

I have (got) ⇒ haven't I? (= possess)

He has got a sleeping bag, hasn't he?

I have ⇒ don't I? (other meanings)

She had breakfast, didn't she?

There is/are ⇒ isn't/aren't there?

There is a book on the table, isn't there?

This/That is ⇒ isn't it?

That is Tom's house, isn't it?

Intonation

- When we are sure of the answer and expect agreement, the voice goes down in the question tag.

It's a horrible day, isn't it? ↘

- When we aren't sure of the answer and want to check information, the voice goes up in the question tag.

The play is at eight o'clock, isn't it? ↗

Reflexive Pronouns

Singular		Plural
I	⇒ myself	we	⇒ ourselves
you	⇒ yourself	you	⇒ yourselves
he	⇒ himself	they	⇒ themselves
she	⇒ herself
it	⇒ itself

We use reflexive pronouns:

- with verbs such as behave, burn, cut, enjoy, hurt, introduce, kill, look at, teach, etc. or with prepositions when the subject and the object of the verb are the same.

Lesley has cut herself.

(subject)

(object)

- with the preposition by when we mean alone (= without company, on one's own) or without help.

Helen mended the fence by herself. (= Nobody helped Helen mend the fence.)

- in the following expressions: enjoy yourself (= have a good time), behave yourself (= be good), help yourself (= you are welcome to take something if you want).

Behave yourself at the party.

- to emphasise the subject or the object of a sentence.

I painted the entire house myself. (= I painted the house, nobody did it for me.)

Note:

- We do not use reflexive pronouns with the verbs concentrate, feel, meet and relax.

You need to relax.

(NOT: You need to relax yourself.)

- The verbs dress, wash and shave are not normally followed by a reflexive pronoun. However, we can use a reflexive pronoun with these verbs when we want to show that someone did something with a lot of effort.

First I shaved and then I dressed.

Although Steve is only two years old, he can wash himself.

But: we always say dry myself.

I dried myself with a towel when I got out of the pool.
